A partial implementation for an account class is on the course web page. Compete it by adding the method deposit. Then add the subclass SavingsAccount, which has an interest rate and, in addition to the functionality inherited from Account, allows you to post interest.

What to hand it

(1) A “listing” of your program.

(2) A screen dump showing your program in operation.